Box 7: Quotes from interview relating to preferences for dental treatment

Preference elicitation	“Yes in regards to my missing teeth, it was whether I wanted my teeth moving or just reshaping I think that was about it” [SI01]
	“They asked me what my plan would be and obviously, I told them for my teeth to be straight” [SI04]
	“I don’t think that’s kind of been specifically asked and I guess I probably looked to the consultants to tell me what it is that can be provided” [SI06, Mother]
Beliefs about treatment	“I think {implants} is the best solution rather than dentures, isn’t it?” [SI02, Mother]
	“{Implants} get screwed onto the bone, yeah that sounds terrifying but apparently I’ll have the nicest teeth in my family” [SI06]
	“I just had the impression that [implants] was the best and permanent option because I don’t know a lot about implants” [SI02, Mother]
	“Our dentist told us, he says its better for him if he get braces on” [SI07, Mother]
Willingness to trade off	“If it was going to have the same result but one was painful and one wasn’t painful I would pick the one that wasn’t as painful, but if one had a really good result and one that was ok but the one that had the really good outcome was more painful, I would still pick that one” [SI01]
